A FINAL WORD.
Why the Republican Ticket Should be Elected.

The election to-morrow should call out every Republican voter in the city. There is too much at stake to allow a full to exist in the party. Every man who believes in financial honesty, every man who believes in electing men to office who have common sense principles regarding the money of the country, who believes in supporting men for office who advocate a paper currency which will wrong no man, should vote the Republican ticket. The Republican party stands pledged now as it always has stood pledged, to an honest greenback—a greenback that shall not go begging for friends. Such principles should be supported by voting for every man on the ticket, from Congressman down to coronor. Let the defeat of the Democratic-Greenbackers, be complete and overwhelming.

The city of Janesville should give Mr. Williams a rousing majority. He is a gentleman in whom his fellow townsmen have unlimited confidence, and his career in Congress is flattering to himself and an honor to the District. He is not only a leader in the House, whose utterances command general attention, but his record on the question which now deeply concerns the people, is one that is entitled to unanimous endorsement.

Vote for Hon. Hamilton Richardson for State Senator. The services he has performed during the past two sessions of the Legislature, not only for the country, but for the general good of the State, are acknowledged by the best public men in Wisconsin. For this reason he should be returned, and by a majority which will be an honor to Rock county.

The second Assembly District should elect Mr. Lovejoy to the Legislature. Of the candidates running for that office, he is best fitted by education and training, for the office. His election would be a credit to the District, and especially to the city. It may be a good joke to vote for his opponent, but it will be mainly and business-like, to vote for Mr. Lovejoy. Remember this, and make his election sure.

It is important that the entire county ticket should receive the solid vote of the party. Do no scratching, but vote for every man, and see that every Republican in the several wards, has cast his ballot.

THE NEWS.

who heard it, blush with shame. Pierce has done Mr. Parker a positive damage.

The libel suit against the Evening Wisconsin, brought by J. P. C. Cottrell, of Milwaukee, has been decided, and J. P. C. C. gets six cents for the harm done his character. He can now judiciously invest his six cents and retire from practice. He is a political demagogue, as all who have heard him make speeches can testify. In 1875 he made speeches, and the reports and telegrams from his meetings gave the editor of the Wisconsin to clearly understand that Cottrell had made religious appeals to the Catholics not to vote for the Republican party. The Wisconsin took him to task for such an unwise course, for which he brought suit. It was tried in the Supreme Court three times, and at last the Wisconsin came out ahead, and the jury in the court below gave him the magnificent sum of six cents. We congratulate the Wisconsin, and honor it for having the boldness to denounce the political course of Cottrell.

POLITICAL.

The Rally at Beloit—Accounts From the State.

BELOIT, Nov. 3.—The final Republican meeting of the campaign was held at the Opera House this evening and addressed by O. H. Fethers, of Janesville, whose speech was a great effort. Greenbackers have put forth great effort to make voters, with what success will be shown Tuesday.

The yellow fever epidemic in the Southern States is at an end. It began last July, and has had almost uninterrupted march for nearly four months. During that time 12,617 persons died of the fever, and the number of cases is put at 34,000. The virulence of the disease was greater than ever before known. Of the number who died, New Orleans had 3,920; Memphis, 3,108; Vicksburg, 1,118; Grenada, 327; and Holly Springs, 314. An official report will soon be published regarding the fever, in which will be given the number of deaths and cases.

The man who professes to have beaten Eugene Hale for Congress, can make more mistakes, and do it more unblushingly, than any speaker on the stump, hardly excepting Parker's hired man, Stewart. In his war on the National banks, he stated that the National bank of Beloit had fifteen million of greenbacks on hand. Of course it was a fib, and Pierce knew it was, but he had the audacity to make the statement for the purpose of deceiving his hearers.

Mr. Lawrence says he is no flatist, soft money man, or anything of that sort, but his company gives himself away on that point. If he is a sound money man, would not it look a little more consistent in his case not to train with the flatists, nor consent to be their candidate. A little consistency is a good thing for a person to carry about him.

Look closely at your ticket. The Democrats have their tickets headed in all sorts of ways. Some are called, "Democratic," some "Greenback," some "People's ticket," and some one thing and some another. Don't be deceived by any such tricks as that. Vote the straight Republican ticket, for honest men and honest money.

The result of the election to-morrow in this county will be three Republican Assemblies, a State Senator, the election of every man on the county ticket, and a big majority for Williams. This will make the Democratic-Greenbackers feel badly but it can't be helped.

The position of Assemblyman is so important one, that the utmost care should be used in selecting the very best men—men of ability, of personal influence, of business training. For this reason, both parties in the city should unite in supporting Mr. Lovejoy.

The water-power interests on Rock river are exceedingly important, and must be watched closely in the Legislature. Therefore work for Lovejoy and secure his election, and not place so vital an interest in jeopardy.

Mr. Lovejoy is a capable business man, whose commanding integrity, solid character, and acknowledged ability, will fit him for the Legislature. His nomination was an honor to the party and a credit to the city.

The business interests of Janesville demand that Mr. Lovejoy shall be elected to the Assembly. He is the better man of the two for that office. It needs no argument to convince the people of this fact.

There should be a personal effort on the part of every Republican to draw out the full vote of the party, and to give the entire county ticket a united and hearty support.

The Congressional race will be an interesting one to-morrow. Mr. Williams will carry the city by an increased majority, and Parker—where will he be? Ask Stewart.

The business men to-morrow should take a lively hand in the election and work for the election of Mr. Lovejoy. It is for their interests to elect him.

Let every Republican in the city cast his vote for Senator Richardson, one of the best Senators ever sent from Rock county.

No man should be nominated for Legislature for the sake of a joke. The office is too good a one for that.

Kimball's majority last year was 371 Lovejoy's should be made an even 400.

THE PLAGUE.

Uncasiness Among the Refugees at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., November 3.—No little uneasiness was felt by many returned refugees this evening when the official report of the Board of Health was made, which announced eight deaths from yellow fever during the past twenty-four hours, ending at 6 o'clock to-night. The death of Dr. A. C. Ewell, which occurred this afternoon, also added to the alarm of many. Dr. Ewell had fled the city at the appearance of the epidemic, and only returned a week ago yesterday. He was sick but three days. Absentees continue to arrive in large numbers.

The steamer Rutle Hooper, from Cincinnati, which came into port to-night, brought three hundred passengers. The Peabody hotel has been crowded for the past week, and Colonel C. B. Mallory is reaping the reward of his heroism, which he displayed in keeping his hotel open all during the epidemic.

FITZ-JOHN PORTER.

More Evidence from a Member of the Iron Brigade.

RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 3.—Col. William Dudley, Chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, who served in the 19th Indiana volunteers, in Brigadier General Gibbon's brigade, Pope's Army of the Potomac, during the war, yesterday found while examining old papers a complete diary of Pope's campaign with daily entries. This record settles many disputed points brought before the Fitz John Porter investigating committee recently in session at Governor's island. He has offered his diary to the commission but has not yet made the particulars public. Many important disclosures are anticipated.

SILVER COINAGE.

It is reported from Washington that Secretary Sherman will be supported by the Director of the Mint this year in the recommendation of limitation by Congress of the silver coinage.

Director Linderman it is understood, will strongly urge this point in his annual report. It is not yet determined what limitation shall be recommended, but that will be a matter of expediency. A certain amount of silver dollars can be kept in circulation without driving gold out of circulation and out of the country, but beyond that limit silver cannot be safely coined. It is probable that the country could stand an issue of $50,000,000 of silver, or $30,000,000 more than will have been issued on the first of January next. The Director of the Mint will give an interesting account of the coinage of the year and will also present some fresh information in regard to mines and mining, but he will judiciously refrain from mentioning any particular mine, as that sort of thing has caused his reports to be sharply criticised in previous years.

THOUGH SHAKING LIKE AN ASPEN LEAF

With the chills and fever, the victim of malaria may still recover by using the celebrated specific, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only breaks up the most aggravated attacks, but prevents their recurrence. It is infinitely preferable to quinine, not only because it does the business far more thoroughly, but also on account of its perfect wholesomeness and invigorating action upon the entire system. Testimony is concurrent, positive and ample showing the decisive nature of its effects, and that it is no mere palliative. Physicians concede its excellence, and there is a constant influx of communications from persons in every class of society avouching its merits, and bearing witness to its superiority over other remedies for malarial disease. It is especially popular throughout the West, where fever and ague prevails, as it does in many of the fairest and most fertile portions of that vast region.

ADMITTED TO BAIL.

EDINBURGH, Nov. 2.—The Lord Advocate has accepted $75,000 bail for John Stewart, one of the directors of the City of Glasgow Bank. The sum of $150,000 was subscribed at a private meeting in Glasgow yesterday for the relief of the shareholders of the City of Glasgow Bank. Five firms gave each $15,000.

LIBEL SUIT.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 3.—In the County Court yesterday Judge Mann decided against the motion for a new trial in the libel suit of J. P. C. Cottrell vs. Cramer & Co., publishers of the Wisconsin. The verdict against Cramer was for 6 cents damages, and the Court refused to set it aside.

TRAMPS.

BELOIT, Nov. 3.—E. B. Breckenridge, the would-be pedestrian who has been making a six days' walk at this place to see what he can do, finished at 12:02 this morning, having walked 450 miles. He made his last mile in seven minutes by running.

ARRESTED.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 2.—F. G. Miner, convicted of body snatching, was sentenced to-day to four months' imprisonment in the work house, and to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

A VALUABLE BOOK.

Major Ben Perley Poore's Biographical and Historical Dictionary.

From the Inter Ocean.

Major Ben Perley Poore, the veteran correspondent of the Boston Journal, has in press a biographical and historical dictionary that must find its way into the library of every student, historian, or politician, comprising as it will a detailed and statistical review of the United States Government from its origin to the end of the Forty-fifth Congress. The work is divided into four parts, three of which will contain information that cannot be obtained elsewhere.

The first part is a history of the forty-five Congresses, with a complete list of Senators and members, with their residences, and length of service, the committees on which they served, and other detailed information.

The second part is a record of the successive administrations, from Washington to Hayes, the changes in the form of our government, and the stages by which it has grown to its present magnitude.

The third part is devoted to the Federal Courts, Supreme, Circuit, and District, Courts of Claims, temporary commissions, arbitrators, and the other agencies relative to the judiciary with sketches.

The fourth part contains biographical sketches of all those men who have been prominently connected with the government in an official capacity, with the political record of each, the officers for which they were candidates, and the votes which they received. This biographical portion will contain information that has never before been published—except in newspapers, or the bulky official records of Congress and the several States.

No one in the world is better fitted or more competent to prepare such a volume as this, and none could have better facilities for securing information than Major Poore. The book has been the labor of a lifetime, and the author has had access to all the records of Congress, the manuscripts and books of the Congressional Library, the rare files of newspapers, almanacs, and registers that are there kept. The same privileges have been extended to him by all the historical societies in the country, and all the public and private libraries in the United States.

RALLY OF REPUBLICANS.

A Mass-Meeting to be Held at Lappin's Hall this Evening.

Let the Hall be Packed.

There will be a grand rally of Republicans at Lappin's hall this evening, "with music by the entire band." The meeting will be addressed by several of the best speakers in the city, and the gathering will be one of the most interesting of the campaign. Let there be a general rally. The hall will be set rolling at 7:30 o'clock. Go early and secure a seat.

BRIEFLETS.

—Prepare your ballots.
—Vote for honest money.
—The turkeys are being fattened, as the time for giving thanks draws near.
—Miss Porter will give another class recital at her music rooms, this evening. Patrons and friends invited.
—There will be a free entertainment of a comic order at Prof. Silsbee's college rooms this evening, by Prof. W. S. Fertie, of St. Paul.

—Let every one who wants to have prosperous times with a solid rock financial foundation vote the Republican ticket tomorrow.

—O. H. Fethers, Esq., spoke at the Opera house in Beloit last Saturday night. He had a large and attentive audience, and the meeting was in all respects a success.

—The Select Templars meet at the Temple of Honor hall to-night to install their newly elected officers, and to transact other business of importance.

—The second series of Rev. Mr. Chapell's lectures opened well last evening; a very large audience listened intently to the story of William Carey's remarkable life and labors.

—John Rattigan, who was so badly shaken up by being caught by a revolving shaft in McLean's woolen mill last Saturday is on the gain, and hopes are entertained that he will speedily recover.

—A trace has been obtained of the money lost by Mrs. Clitty. A man was seen to pick it up, and an arrest will probably be the result. The money being the little all of a poor woman, makes the case an aggravated one.

—Pat Kearney, of Oconomowoc, won't be at home to vote tomorrow. He was found on the streets of this city Saturday night too drunk to move, and was to-day sentenced to two days in jail in which to sober up.

—Postmaster Patterson has so far recovered from his illness that to-day he rode out, and dropped in at his office for a few minutes. He hopes to be well enough tomorrow to go to the polls and cast his vote for honest men and honest money.

—A boy named Fred Lutz, a brother of the two boys who were drowned at Monterey last summer, was accidentally shot last Saturday. He was playing with a revolver, when it was discharged sending a ball into his left hand. The ball was cut out by Dr. King, it having lodged about half way up the fore-arm.

—Saturday night little May Thomas, the eight-year old pedestrian, walked ten miles in Beloit, making the distance in one hour and forty-five minutes, and making the first two miles in ten minutes each, and the last mile in a like speedy manner. There were about 1,000 people who saw her walk, and on being called for again she walked four miles more in equally good time.

—James Clark & Co. have knocked down the prices for flour and feed, for man and beast, and in another column they name such figures as will open the eyes of everybody. Remember as you look them over that Clark & Co. sell only such goods as they can guarantee, and all their patrons will testify of their own experience as the kind of flour and feed to be had at the Farmers Mills.

—Last Saturday night John Roethling and a friend were walking along Franklin street, near Milwaukee street, when Mr. Roethling turned and fired two shots at a number of young bloods whom he claims had been following him and annoying him for some purpose which savored of malice. The crowd scattered on hearing the shots. No blood shed as far as heard from.

—Yesterday the Democratic candidate for the Assembly is said to have taken a cold bath. He was down in the town of Rock, hunting up voters, and drove his steed into Bass creek for a drink. The nag became frightened at something floating in the creek, made a jump, whirled around, and dumped the ambitious Churchman into the cold waters, giving him a thorough baptism. He wended his way home again, no wiser, but much wetter.

—A greenback Maine-se, named Pierce, came all the way from the old pine tree state, to tell the people of Janesville, last Saturday night, that the National banks were making money so fast that they did not know what to do with their profits. He was very careful, though not to explain why he thought so, and the only authority he based his statements on was that of Mr. C. R. Pierce, of Maine. He also carefully avoided allowing any one to ask any questions. Many of his statements were so evidently based on a vivid imagination that they carried little or no weight, and Pierce's talk may be set down as a failure. He is a good platform speaker as far as oratorical and elocutionary powers are concerned, but seemed to realize that he was using his talents in the support of a desperate cause.

"FOR OR AGAINST."

The Water-Works Question Clearly Stated for the Benefit of the Voters Who Will Ballot on the Issue Tomorrow.

To-morrow there will be a chance given for every voter to express his opinion on the water-works question. It has been decided by the citizens' meeting held last Friday night, and by the Council at their meeting the same night, that to-morrow ballot boxes and printed slips shall be in readiness so that a vote may be taken. There seems to be some misunderstanding as to what is the question to be decided. That all may be clearly posted on the question before voting, we take occasion to explain the issue in full. The slips will read:

"For water-works built by a private corporation."

"Against water-works built by a private corporation."

The reason for narrowing the issue down to this is that it is conceded that a large majority of the citizens are strongly opposed to the city building and owning the works, and burdening itself with a heavy debt for the creation and maintenance of such works. This being practically disposed of, the question remains to be settled whether some company should be allowed to build works, and supply the city with water for fire purposes at a price per year which shall not exceed the amount now expended for fire protection. The vote, whatever may be the result, is not binding upon the city but is simply an easy and convenient way for every citizen to express his opinion upon the matter, so that the Council will be enabled to know the will of the people. If there is a large majority of the voters, who desire water works, and desire some company to build and own them, then the Council will probably try to make some judicious contract with some reliable company. The details of this contract cannot of course be printed upon a ballot, but it is understood that such a contract shall provide for the laying of 12½ miles of water pipes, and the placing of 125 hydrants at such points as the Council may determine, and that the company shall guarantee to supply an abundance of pure healthful water, and that the city shall pay said company a sum of money not to exceed $7,500 a year. Such was the sense of the citizens' meeting, the other evening, as expressed by a unanimous vote, and such will be the implied wish of all who to-morrow vote for "for water works built by a private corporation." The question in other terms is whether the city shall be supplied with water by some company, as it is now supplied with light by the gas company. The Council desire to have a full expression of the voters, to-morrow, that they may be thus guided in their further action in the matter. The Aldermen cannot see each voter personally, and hence this method has been taken to secure their advice. All should take this opportunity of expressing their views. Let there be a full vote.

A DISCUSSION AT TUTTLE.

Last Saturday night the new town hall at Tuttle was dedicated and a joint discussion of the issues of the campaign was indulged in. The hall was packed with people. S. H. Slaymaker gave an appropriate dedicatory address which was enthusiastically received. He was then chosen chairman of the meeting by the Republicans, and Mr. Carpenter was chosen by the Demo-Greenbackers to preside jointly with him. Hon. Piny Norcross was the first speaker introduced, and spoke for thirty-five minutes in favor of honest money. He was frequently interrupted by loud applause.

Mr. Stewart followed him in a seventy-minute speech, making a vain attempt to show that contraction had been the cause of all hard times, and advocating an issue of flat money, redeemable in nothing. He deemed the National bank note a proof of the power of the Government to create fiat money. On being asked why the National bank note was not legal tender he remained at par, he answered, because it is redeemable in greenbacks, and on being pressed further conceded that greenbacks were kept at par with gold because they were redeemable in gold.

H. H. Blanchard, Esq., of this city, followed with a thirty-five minute speech, in which he showed the contradictions existing in the manifestos issued by the Demo-Greenbackers. Mr. Blanchard then handled the question of contraction, and showed where Mr. Stewart had varied in his statements from the official record, in one instance there being a little overstatement of one billion dollars. He presented conclusive figures drawn from official reports refuting completely the howl about contraction and the small amount of money per capita as compared with other nations. He also showed the fallacy of claiming any power in fiat money, by citing the continental money and the confederate money, while gold and silver, no matter what government stamped them, would never sink below their bullion value, and never become worthless.

Mr. Parker then made a stumbling effort to explain how he could stand on three platforms at once, but falling in this endeavor, gave up in despair.

Mr. Clinton Babbitt then made a rousing speech in favor of honest money. He was greeted with loud cheers. Both sides were represented in the meeting, as indicated by the applause given to the various speakers, but it was evident that the Republican and honest money men were in the large majority. The meeting was an enthusiastic one, and productive of good.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 34 degrees above zero and at 3 o'clock this afternoon at 49 degrees above.

The indications to-day are, for the upper lake region, partly cloudy weather, possibly occasional rain or snow, colder, northerly winds, rising barometer, possibly followed at west stations by falling barometer and warmer, southerly winds. For the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, warmer, clear or partly cloudy weather, variable winds, mostly southerly, stationary, or falling barometer.

LET THERE BE LIGHT.

Harris & Smith's New Self-Extinguishing, Non-Explosive Safety Lamp.

In calling attention to this new Safety Lamp, it may be well to consider the astounding loss of life and property which annually occurs in the United States by using ordinary lamps. In the year 1875, it is estimated that over thirty-eight million dollars worth of property and more than 2,000 lives were destroyed by the upsetting and exploding of kerosene lamps.

In the years 1876 and 1877 the loss of life was much greater, reaching the enormous number of nearly six thousand in the former year. The deaths caused by lamp accidents are mainly those of women and children, while the number disgraced for life is absolutely appalling.

All that other Safety Lamps (so called) can be said to do is to provide against explosions. While it is well known that by far the greater number of lamp accidents are caused by the overturning or falling of lamps, thus causing the oil to become ignited setting everything in flames with which it comes in contact.

The Self-Extinguishing feature of the new Lamp effectively prevents accidents of this class. The Safety-Filler prevents danger while filling the lamp, and its Non-Explosive feature provides against accidents of that nature.

It possesses the following wonderful qualities:

It will extinguish itself when overturned. It will extinguish itself when dropped. It will extinguish itself while falling. It extinguishes without blowing down chimney. It extinguishes without turning down the wick. It extinguishes if an attempt is made to fill it when lighted. It can be carried at pleasure without extinguishing.

It has a Filler, but cannot be filled when lighted. The new lamp is also non-explosive, and has all the safety in this respect which is claimed for other (so-called) Safety Lamps, while with the Safety-Filler all the convenience is secured without the danger of ordinary fillers, as the lamp cannot be filled while lighted as in the case of ordinary lamps which have fillers. These combined qualities render accident impossible, and entitles it to its name, being the only really safe lamp ever known.

The new lamp entirely avoids any defects that were discovered in the old one heretofore made by Harris & Smith, who are now the sole owners of the United States patent. They are receiving letters from all parts of the country in regard to its sale, and have just issued a neat illustrated circular, giving a full description of the various styles of lamps made by them on this principle, which includes Hand, Stand, and Combined Bracket and Hand lamps. The last named lamp is a great novelty, and will find a ready sale. The firm will send their circular free to all applicants. These lamps are very low in price, when their qualities are considered, as they give to the user absolute safety, as well as a superior light. The following recommendation shows what the insurance agents think about the new lamp:

JANESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 25, 1878.

To the Public.

We the undersigned agents for Fire Insurance having carefully examined Harris & Smith's self-extinguishing non-explosive safety lamps cordially recommend them to all consumers of kerosene, or other oils or fluids burned in kerosene lamps. We regard this safety lamp as the greatest invention in its class of this age. As a life saving medium it is unrivaled; and as a saving of property we have never had anything brought to our notice that compares with it. Thousands of lives are sacrificed annually by lamp accidents, caused by blowing down the chimney, careless handling, upsetting, &c., &c., and millions of dollars worth of property is burned through the above mentioned carelessness causing untold distress and suffering. But we are fully satisfied that the universal use of this safety lamp, will nearly, if not wholly banish from the daily newspapers the harrowing recital of tragedies that have so long furnished them with startling head lines.

JUSTICE TO A. HYATT SMITH.

The Milwaukee News in a recent issue makes the following retraction of charges made against A. Hyatt Smith of this city. It is self-explanatory.

In 1874, during the excited discussion, in the press, of the Potter railroad law, and the questions growing out of the policy of Governor Taylor's Administration, a communication from Janesville was printed in The News, in which a charge was made that the Hon. A. Hyatt Smith, of that city, while President of the Rock River Valley Union Railroad company (now the Wisconsin Division of the Northwestern) purchased real estate in England which was not used for the road, but was sold and the proceeds diverted from the Railroad Company. Other charges, more or less specific, were also published, about that time. It is due to General Smith to say that the early history of the railroad company has been investigated recently by the editor of The News, and he has become satisfied, as have the present managers of this paper, that the allegations were not founded in fact, and that the communication and the comments based on the false information which it contained, did injustice to General Smith, and his associates. The facts appear to have been that the bonds of the Rock River Valley Union Railroad Company were sold to a banking house in London, which had been compelled to take for advances a large amount of railroad iron; that it was the distinct understanding that the iron was to be sold in the United States, and it was sold at a large profit over its purchase, and every dollar of the proceeds went into the road, which was then in process of construction.

THE BURPEE-BURTON CASE.

The following is the syllabus of the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of the State ex rel. Burpee vs. Burton:

1. While the principal or teacher in charge of a public school is subordinate to the school board or board of education of his district or city, and must enforce regulations adopted for it by the government of the school, and execute its lawful orders in that behalf, yet, in matters concerning which the board has remained silent, he has authority, as in loco parentis, to enforce obedience to his lawful commands, subordination, civil department, respect for the rights of other pupils, and all obligations inherent in every school system and constituting the common law of the school, which every pupil is presumed to know.

2. In a proper case, and where not deprived of the power by affirmative action of the board, such teacher has the inherent power to suspend a pupil from the privileges of the school; though such suspension should be promptly reported to the board, with the reasons therefor.

3. Decisions of the department of public instruction upon questions within its jurisdiction are entitled to great weight, and should not be overruled by the courts unless clearly contrary to law.
